VANCOUVER FOUNDATION

ANNUAL REPORT 1997

A PERPETUAL LEGACY FOR THE PEOPLE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

THE FOUNDATION Formed in 1943, Vancouver Foundation has grown to become the steward of some 630 endowment funds established by individuals, businesses and not-for-profit agencies. Vancouver Foundation is governed by a volunteer Board of community representatives, and benefits directly from the informed counsel of more than 85 additional volunteers serving on its Advisory Committees. Income derived from the investment of the pooled capital of Vancouver Foundation's endowments is distributed to support the activities of charitable organizations across British Columbia.

MISSION Through the growth and stewardship of permanent endowment funds and the distribution of income to a broad range of eligible organizations, Vancouver Foundation, in meeting community needs, provides philanthropic leadership to improve the quality of life for all British Columbians.

VALUES In pursuit of this mission, Vancouver Foundation believes: ∞ that our position within the community is both an opportunity and a responsibility to provide philanthropic leadership; ∞ that the endowment fund is a resource to benefit the people of British Columbia and we commit to steward these funds in a responsible manner; ∞ in open, accessible, respectful, and ethical behaviour in our conduct with all people who come in contact with the foundation; ∞ that our policies, programs and practices should enable and encourage human growth and dignity, inclusiveness, fairness and the equality of all people; ∞ in working as a catalyst within the charitable sector to strengthen community capacity and volunteerism and to find solutions to shared challenges; ∞ in partnerships that seek consensus and respect the integrity and autonomy of participants; ∞ in encouraging and nurturing innovations and managing the risks inherent in creative philanthropy.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

Ever changing environments on both the investment and grant making fronts resulted in another challenging year for Vancouver Foundation in 1997.

In the investment sector, interest and inflation rates remained at the low end, while national and international equity markets continued to deliver higher returns. These conditions required that we continue to actively review and adjust our investment portfolio to improve total returns.

In our grant making activities, we faced other pressures created by reduced government funding and increasing demand for services. In response, our grant making emphasized innovative ways of adding to the value of our discretionary grants, the area in which we invest in human capital.

To enhance our ability to make advances in both areas, the Board has approved a proposal for changes to the Vancouver Foundation Act in the current sitting of the legislature. These changes will permit a more appropriate spending policy while requiring a higher level of diligence to preserve financial capital.

As ever, our capacity to fulfill our mission remains supported by the hard work of our small, dedicated staff and the wise counsel of our volunteer advisors and board members. Both are recognized with appreciation on the back pages of this report.

J. Bruce Buchanan, FCA

REPORT FROM THE PRESIDENT AND CEO

In this annual report we celebrate the common wealth of community and the opportunity that exists for each of us to contribute to a better quality of life in British Columbia. Although the report focuses on Vancouver Foundation's role, we have endeavored to demonstrate the vitality of the community we serve. The unique assets that are present within the public, private and voluntary sectors provide an essential platform for our work.

In 1997, to determine how we may best build on this platform to address the current and future needs of BC's not-for-profit sector, we undertook a major research project which we named the Social Reconnaissance Project. Continuing cutbacks in government funding and the accelerated rate at which community needs are growing have left the sector deeply stressed. And while we appear to be a large organization, our operational resources are limited. Our goal, therefore, was to ascertain where we could strategically make the greatest impact in helping to respond effectively.

Over a period of seven months we spoke with 221 not-for-profit organizations across BC, individually and in focus groups, about their needs, capacities and resources. We also spoke with 68 government and non-government funders and other knowledgeable informants throughout North America and Europe. In analyzing the project's findings, we discovered that by far the most significant of needs related to the strengthening of capacities, within BC's communities as well as in the not-for-profit agencies that serve them.

Our decision to focus on capacity-building took into account our mission, our values and our position as the largest community foundation in Canada. Working in cooperation with the national organization, Community Foundations of Canada, Vancouver Foundation is ideally situated to help build capacity within BC's community foundations, both in terms of the endowment capital that is raised and the ability of the community foundation to respond to community needs. By helping to build strong community foundations in BC, we can help strengthen our communities.

We also considered our many years of experience in helping communities and not-for-profit organizations build on their existing strengths through collaboration. Vancouver Foundation has both initiated and supported many programs that unite government, the corporate sector and the not-for-profit sector in responding to community needs.

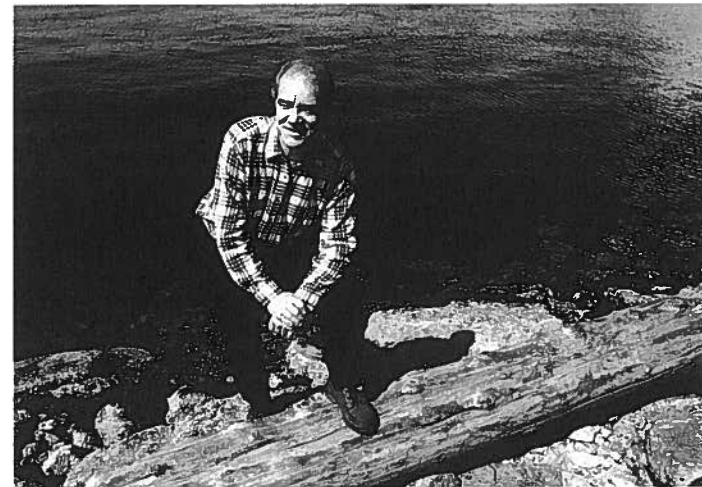

One of these, Partners in Organizational Development, provides small grants to not-for-profit organizations throughout BC for specific developmental needs. Another, the Vancouver Arts Stabilization Team, equips arts organizations with the resources to strengthen organizational effectiveness, erase long-term debt and increase liquidity. Recently, we launched Youth in Philanthropy, a province-wide program that is creating opportunities for young people to gain leadership skills while fueling the development of community foundations.

We also recently organized a symposium called Vancouver's Tomorrow as a vehicle to engage concerned leaders in the public, private and voluntary sectors in collaboratively enhancing the health and well-being of the community. Jointly sponsored with the Canadian Centre for Philanthropy, this event provided a forum for the three sectors to discuss changes in their roles and responsibilities and begin to set collective priorities.

We will continue to direct our resources towards building community capacities through supporting projects like these. But if we are to fund vital programs that build on the existing assets of our communities and our not-for-profit organizations, we require increased discretionary income. By giving Vancouver Foundation discretion in the distribution of income from their endowments, our donors can significantly enhance the value of their investment in the common wealth of our community.

Equally important is the vast, untapped human wealth in BC's communities. Each of us has so very much more to give than money. I encourage you to be generous in making a personal investment in your community through volunteering your time and energy. The dividends are outstanding.

RETURNS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

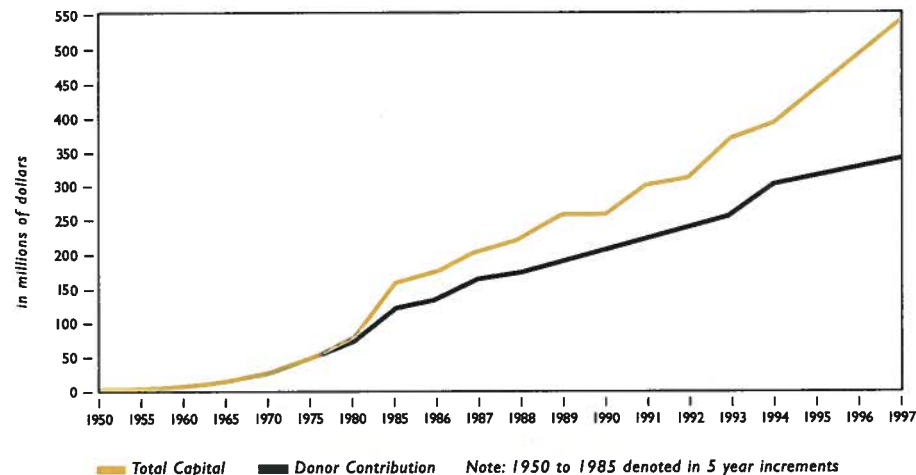

Total returns from investments show a 5-year rolling average of 12.39%. After deducting the costs of administration and fund management (approximately 0.5% of market value per annum), the balance is divided between retained returns (capital gain) and income available for grants and distributions (interest and dividends) which have been directly affected by declining interest rates.

FIELDS of INTEREST

seven

MAJOR FIELDS

VANCOUVER FOUNDATION MAKES DISCRETIONARY GRANTS IN SEVEN MAJOR FIELDS OF INTEREST. TO ENSURE THAT FUNDS ARE CHanneLED TO THE AREAS OF GREATEST NEED, WE DRAW ON THE INSIGHT AND EXPERIENCE OF MORE THAN 85 COMMUNITY REPRESENTATIVES WHO SIT ON OUR ADVISORY COMMITTEES. GOALS AND OBJECTIVES FOR EACH FIELD OF INTEREST ARE ESTABLISHED BY OUR VOLUNTEER ADVISORS.

ARTS AND CULTURE

We encourage the creative growth of arts and culture in a manner that is responsible and responsive to BC's cultural diversity. Our aim is the highest possible standard in artistic excellence. We seek to strengthen the operating capacities of arts and cultural organizations and to promote broader awareness, understanding and appreciation of the arts.

CHILD AND FAMILY

Improving quality of life for children in BC is a priority. We strive to help enable children, families and communities to create caring, safe and supportive environments. Increasingly, our resources are directed toward preventative initiatives and to facilitating collaboration among children's services agencies.

EDUCATION

Vancouver Foundation endeavors to enhance the quality and accessibility of educational opportunities for all learners in BC. We support excellence, innovation and collaboration in educational initiatives. We encourage positive attitudes toward life-long learning and the value of education in our society.

ENVIRONMENT

The Foundation seeks to assist in resolving broad environmental issues arising in BC through consensual processes. We support research that increases scientific understanding, the implementation of sustainable development plans, public environmental education and resource management training for Aboriginal peoples.

HEALTH AND WELFARE

Improving the quality of life for BC's adult population through the promotion of health and social development initiatives is an important goal for Vancouver Foundation. Projects that enhance the capacity of individuals, families and communities to assume responsibility for their own health and well-being are a priority.

YOUTH

Vancouver Foundation supports projects that create opportunities for young people to enhance their self-esteem, leadership skills and competency. In doing so, we seek to provide avenues for youth to demonstrate the tremendous contributions they are able to make to their communities.

BC MEDICAL SERVICES

The BC Medical Services Foundation supports health-related research in both academic and community settings in BC. It actively promotes health education initiatives, explores solutions to health care issues and advances study in the health sciences.

WHY GIVE DISCRETION?

We welcome all gifts from donors. However, it is discretionary funds that best enable us to respond to the acute needs of the community.

Flexibility Gives Your Charitable Gift Greater Impact

For more than half a century Vancouver Foundation has served British Columbia by offering its citizens the opportunity to create permanent charitable endowment funds. During this time 630 funds have been established by individuals, corporations, not-for-profit agencies and other organizations.

The income that is generated through the investment of these funds is returned to the community according to each fundholder's instructions. While not-for-profit agencies typically establish funds for their own benefit, with income directed back to their organization, other fundholders have a wide range of options. At one end of the spectrum, they may name the specific charitable organization or organizations that will benefit from their fund's income. At the other, they may choose to give the Foundation broad discretion in distributing income. Donors may also opt to allocate a portion of the income from their fund for discretionary purposes and advise us on how they wish the balance to be distributed.

Where discretion is given, the Foundation's Board, working in tandem with our many community advisors, is able to direct endowment income to the areas of greatest need. Rather than being "locked in" for community needs that may ultimately become obsolete, funds can be used to address new problems as they emerge. This increased flexibility allows us to serve our donors and the community as a whole to the fullest extent possible.

"Value Added" Approach Overcomes Roadblocks to Giving

Today, as never before, donors are anxious to ensure their charitable gift will make a difference. Those who choose to support specific agencies are often involved with the organization and know their contributions are well-placed. Others must contend with mixed messages — incentives to give are often countered by signals to hesitate.

The 1996 and 1997 Federal budgets contained a number of income tax incentives to encourage charitable giving by individuals and corporations in Canada. In addition to increasing the allowable limit for charitable gifts, the government has introduced significant incentives for gifts of appreciated properties, especially publicly-listed securities.

Contradicting these positive measures is the current wide-spread public concern that not all charities are being operated as they should be. The accountability and governance of Canada's charitable organizations are currently the subjects of a panel of community leaders sponsored by the national Voluntary Sector Roundtable.

For donors who wish to ensure that their contributions will directly respond to current and future community needs, Vancouver Foundation's "value-added" approach to grant making offers peace of mind.

Discretionary funds are distributed in response to grant applications in seven fields of interest: arts and culture; child and family; education; environment; health and welfare; youth; and medical services. All applications are rigorously evaluated by the Foundation's programming staff for sustainability and financial viability before being carefully considered by an Advisory Committee made up of community representatives who are widely experienced in the field. A steady rotation of members ensures the committees retain a fresh outlook and broad perspective.

By taking a proactive role in determining and responding to community needs, Vancouver Foundation brings real value to the granting process. What's more, in channeling donors' discretionary funds to the community's most pressing needs, we are often able to attract substantial "levered" support from other funding sources.

Gifts Options Can Be Tailored to Your Present and Future Philanthropic Objectives

In planning your charitable giving, it is important to consider your own interests, priorities and objectives, the time frame within which your gift will be available, and the degree to which you want to be involved in putting it to work.

Depending on your personal situation, you may wish to consider setting up a fund in your own name giving either complete or partial discretion to the Foundation or specifying a broad area of interest coinciding with any of the fields of interest represented by our advisory committees. Some donors choose to advise us on the distribution of income from their fund during their lifetime, with discretion reverting to Vancouver Foundation on their death. Recognition for discretionary grants is attributed to the donor and their fund, in keeping with the fundholder's wishes.

Donors who would like to support the Foundation's work on a discretionary basis but do not wish to establish a fund may contribute to our Community Fund or to one of our field of interest Anniversary Funds, as listed on page 33.

If you would like more information about the fund types and gifting options that are available through Vancouver Foundation, we encourage you to call our office. If you are interested in a particular field of interest, you may wish to arrange to attend one of our Advisory Committee meetings.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Auditor's Report

To the Directors of Vancouver Foundation

We have audited the statements of financial position of Vancouver Foundation as at December 31, 1997 and 1996 and the statements of changes in consolidated trust fund and funds' income statements for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Foundation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

In our opinion, these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Vancouver Foundation as at December 31, 1997 and 1996, and the changes in Consolidated Trust Fund and funds' income for the years then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS DECEMBER 31, 1997 AND 1996

1. Purpose and status

Vancouver Foundation (the "Foundation") was established in 1943 and became incorporated through an Act of the Provincial Legislature in 1950.

The income from funds donated and bequeathed to its endowment is used to provide for charitable purposes throughout British Columbia. The Foundation serves three major constituencies: its donors, the charitable sector and the community.

The Foundation is registered with the Charities Division, Revenue Canada, Taxation and is classified as a public foundation. As such it is exempt from federal income taxes and can issue charitable donation receipts.

2. Consolidated and Other Trust Funds

The Consolidated Trust Fund comprises those assets over which the Foundation exercises discretionary investment control within guidelines established by the Board of Directors. The Other Trust Funds comprise those assets over which the Foundation does not exercise discretionary investment control and which are administered in accordance with specific directions from the donors.

3. Accounting policies

The following accounting policies used by the Foundation are stated below to assist in understanding the financial statements.

Bequests and grants

Bequests are recorded upon receipt of the donated assets. Bequests in a form other than cash or marketable securities are recorded at values determined by the Board of Directors. Grants are recorded when paid by the Foundation.

Investments

Investments within the Consolidated Trust Fund are valued at current market prices on the last business day of the fiscal period. Unrealized gains or losses arising from the revaluation of investments to current market prices, as well as any realized gains or losses arising from investment transactions, are reflected as retained returns from investments. Investments within the Other Trust Funds are stated at cost and any realized gains or losses arising from investment transactions are included as part of contributed principal. Investments are held by CIBC Mellon Global Securities Services Company, which acts as custodian on behalf of the Foundation.

Fixed assets

The Foundation capitalizes the cost of major capital additions and amortizes the cost of these assets over their estimated useful lives. Lease inducements received in conjunction with the Foundation's lease are offset against the cost of leasehold improvements. Management has determined the estimated useful lives to be:

Computer and office equipment	5 years straight line
Office furniture	10 years straight line
Leasehold improvements, net of lease inducements	straight line over the term of the lease (10 years)

Investment income

Interest income on bonds, mortgages and short-term notes is accrued as earned. Dividends which have been declared are recorded as income on the date of record set for the dividend.

Operating expenses

Administration expenses, program expenses and investment management and custodial fees are recorded using the accrual basis.

4. Investments

Consolidated Trust Fund

The bonds and debentures in the Consolidated Trust Fund are represented by Canadian fixed interest bonds and debentures, with a weighted average term to maturity of 8.8 years.

The common shares and convertible securities in the Consolidated Trust Fund as at December 31, 1997 are represented by the following equity funds:

	Cost	1997 Market Value
Canadian	$ 85,759,328	$ 107,203,924
U.S.	36,400,108	44,338,837

	$ 259,388	$ 46,816	$ 212,572

6. Artwork

During 1997, the Foundation disposed of artwork, which was bequeathed to the Foundation in 1990 and 1992, for $519,675 (U.S. $375,000). The proceeds have been reinvested and recorded as an investment in the Consolidated Trust Fund.

7. Commitments

The Foundation has firm grant commitments totalling $8,553,041 (1996 - $7,189,659). These include grants which will be paid out of fund returns pending distribution as follows:

1998	$ 7,534,763
Subsequent years	1,018,278
	$ 8,553,041

In addition, the Foundation has commitments for conditional funding of up to $600,000 (1996 - $2,975,000), the payment of which is dependent on supporting funds from other organizations.

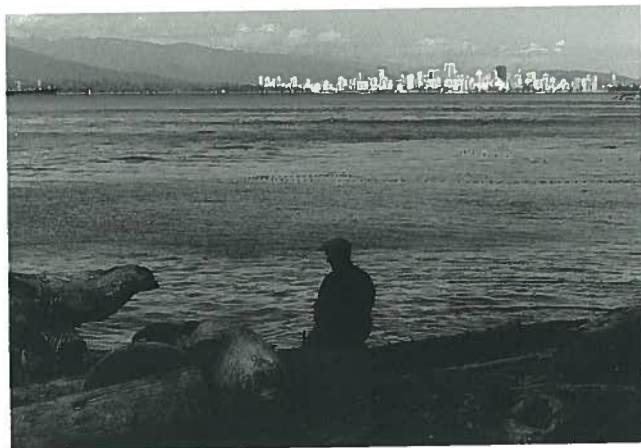

The Foundation has a ten year lease agreement, with the following commitments related to office rent:

1998	$ 163,404
1999	166,769
2000	176,864
2001	176,864
2002	178,574
2003 - 2005	505,181
	$ 1,367,656

8. Statement of changes in financial position

A statement of changes in financial position has not been presented as management does not consider it meaningful in the circumstances.

One of the greatest challenges for people with disabilities and not-for-profit agencies alike is having others recognize the value of your contribution. Vancouver Foundation saw our potential right away. And their support has enabled us to unlock the unique gifts of people across the community.

AL ETMANSKI
Planned Lifetime Advocacy Network

Funding cut-backs have made foundations one of the few lights for many community organizations. More than just providing funding, Vancouver Foundation promotes innovation, responsibility and relevance. There is also a generosity of spirit around the place that is quite encouraging for us in the trenches.

JUDITH MARCUSE
Dance Arts Vancouver

I see Vancouver Foundation as a restorer and builder of community. Their grant helped us to establish a program to prepare First Nations children for school and better acquaint them with their heritage. In doing so, we've made a lot of connections within the diverse First Nations communities we serve. This has paved the way for the exchange of cultures and greater interaction between the generations.

AUDREY WILSON
Administrator, Laichwiltach Family Life Society, Campbell River

Volunteerism is part of the equation for success in any community. If you have the commitment of people who are willing to put in their time and effort, you can overcome pretty well any obstacle.

For my part, I get tremendous satisfaction from the feeling that I can contribute.

I like being able to look back and say 'Hey, I was a part of that.'

JERROLD JONES
Alumni, Leadership Vancouver

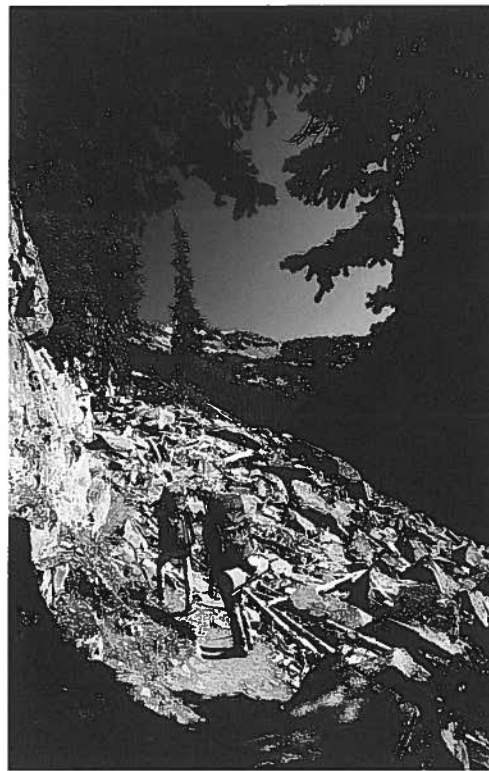

Grand Forks has had some tough times. On our centennial we decided to establish a community foundation to reflect the long term vision we have for our community's stability. With help from Vancouver Foundation we created the Phoenix Foundation of the Boundary Communities and it's really captured people's attention and imagination. We feel this is the very best way for us to help ourselves.

BRIAN TAYLOR
Mayor, Grand Forks

Although I contribute annually to some women's organizations, I wanted to help on a more permanent basis. I didn't want to tie my funds to a program or organization that might cease to operate in future. By establishing a discretionary endowment with Vancouver Foundation that serves a function rather than a specific organization, I achieved both objectives.

MARG NORMAN, MD

Current economic and social trends call for a massive overhaul in the way the private sector, the not-for-profit sector and government relate to one another. Inter-sectoral dialogue and collaboration have never been more important or necessary. The ability of Vancouver Foundation to act as a neutral convener is one of its most valuable assets.

MILTON K. WONG
M.K. Wong and Associates

*Through the years men have sought by private philanthropy to ease the more pressing needs of their community. Some have been wealthy. Others of moderate and even modest means.
All have shared the common desire to return to their community a portion of what has been received by them.*

W. J. VANDUSEN

STATEMENT OF FUNDS VANCOUVER FOUNDATION

In most cases funds that are established with Vancouver Foundation are designated as either "open" or "closed" funds. Those designated as open may be added to, even in modest amounts, by anyone interested in supporting their purpose. Contributions to closed funds may only be made by the fundholder, by their family members or through in memoriam gifts.

DISCRETIONARY FUNDS

These funds allow a donor's charitable giving to have the greatest possible impact because they provide the flexibility to respond to the community's most critical needs and to new problems as they emerge. Discretionary grants are awarded in response to funding applications that are carefully considered by an Advisory Committee made up of informed community representatives.

for the purpose of studying and teaching of childhood diseases and the treatment and care of sick and disabled children

785,788 9,637,128

UNRESTRICTED FUNDS

Unrestricted Funds are a form of discretionary fund, as described above. Field of Interest Funds may also be established, with the income to be distributed through one or more of the Foundation's seven fields of interest, as represented on pages 6 and 7 of this annual report. Gifts of this kind give broad discretion to the Foundation's Advisory Committees to select the agencies that can most effectively achieve a donor's charitable intent.

START-UP FUNDS

The minimum initiating capital to establish a fund with Vancouver Foundation is $10,000. Start-Up Funds enable donors who wish to establish an Unrestricted, Field of Interest or Advised Fund (see below) to make a minimum 'start up' contribution of $1,000 and provide the balance over a period of up to ten years. Income is capitalized until the full initiating capital is received, at which time the fund becomes fully functional.

Start-Up Fund #1	1,200	1,300
Start-Up Fund #2	2,000	2,000
Start-up Fund #3	100	100
Start-up Fund #4	1,000	1,000
Start-up Fund #7	2,200	2,200
	6,500	6,600

ADVISED FUNDS

Grants made from Advised Funds are based on proposals received from fundholders. This type of fund creates a permanent and personal charitable vehicle that allows donors to structure their giving to best suit their individual circumstances. During a donor's lifetime, the fundholder or their chosen advisor(s) may suggest charities which could benefit from their fund. When the donor or their designated advisor(s) no longer wish, or are unable, to make recommendations, the fund can continue its charitable giving as an Unrestricted or Field of Interest Fund.

DESIGNATED FUNDS

Designated Funds may be established by individuals and charitable agencies (see Agency Endowment Funds below). When this type of fund is established by an individual donor, the income is directed to those specific charitable organizations named when the fund is initiated. Vancouver Foundation will carry out the fundholder's wishes as long as the named organizations fulfill the purpose they did when the fund was started. If an organization ceases to exist or substantially changes its purpose, the Foundation is empowered to redirect income for a purpose similar to the one the fundholder initially intended to support.

DISTRIBUTION

DISTRIBUTION OF INCOME FROM DESIGNATED FUNDS

The income from Designated Funds is directed to those specific organizations named when the fund was established. While such endowments can be initiated by individuals, they are often started by the designated agency, which adds contributions to its own fund. Also included in this category are community foundations, from which income is returned to a particular community.

CRITERIA

To determine whether your project meets Vancouver Foundation's basic criteria, we encourage you to contact our office for written funding guidelines and Advisory Committee goals in the appropriate field of interest. Note that Vancouver Foundation is only able to support registered charities, so you must have a federal charitable tax number/business number.

We ask that all grant applicants submit an initial letter of enquiry outlining your project in less than four pages. The letter should:

- > introduce your organization and its mandate;
- > state the issues or community priorities the project will address;
- > describe activities to be undertaken and time frame;
- > detail the geographic scope of the project;
- > demonstrate community support for the project;
- > provide a proposed budget, including funding from Vancouver Foundation and other sources.

Keep in mind that Vancouver Foundation does not provide 100 percent funding. We look for an investment by your own organization, contributions from the community and support from other funders.

Your proposal will be reviewed by one of the Foundation's Program Directors to determine basic eligibility and you may be contacted for further information. If the Foundation is interested in considering the project, you will be invited to submit a formal application by a specific deadline. The Program Director will provide a five-page application form with detailed instructions for completion.

Prior to consideration by the appropriate Advisory Committee, your application will be thoroughly assessed by the Program Director. You can expect to meet with them or discuss the details of your proposal by phone. As part of the assessment, the Program Director routinely consults with other funders and informed people in the field.

The Advisory Committee will then consider your application and make a recommendation to the Foundation's Board of Directors. You will receive written notification of the Board's decision, along with the terms and conditions of any grant that has been awarded.

Vancouver Foundation has three annual deadlines for receiving completed applications, the first Friday in January, April and September. We recommend that letters of inquiry be submitted a minimum of four weeks prior to application deadlines. You can expect a final decision on your grant application within approximately twelve weeks of the deadline.
